WELCOME

This guide is made for you who want to use AI as a calm, safe helper in everyday life with children — whether you are a parent or an educator. No technical experience needed.

WHAT YOU WILL WALK AWAY WITH

- Confidence to use AI without becoming overwhelmed.
- A simple prompt formula you can use over and over.
- Ready-made activities, weekly plans and printables in minutes.
- A system you can keep growing with in the LME platform.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

You don't need to read it all at once. Flip to the module you need right now, copy a prompt, and try it straight away. Come back when you want more.

THE RHYTHM I RECOMMEND

- 1. Choose one module that fits your need today.
- 2. Copy a ready-made prompt from the prompt library.
- 3. Paste it into your AI tool and adapt it in your own words.
- 4. Use the result — and adjust it to suit the child.

One small step at a time — that's enough.

YOUR PROMISE TO YOURSELF

Write down what you want to achieve. It makes it easier to hold on to it when everyday life gets busy.

REFLECTION:

MY PROMISE:

I will use AI calmly and safely — at my own pace.

MODULE 1: AI MADE SAFE AND SIMPLE

AI is just a tool — like a pencil or a book. You're in charge. In this module you become confident in what AI is, what it isn't, and how you stay in control as the grown-up.

USE THIS FOR

- Understand what AI can and can't help you with.
- Set your own boundaries for how you use it.
- Become confident enough to try without being an expert.

TRY THESE PROMPTS

"Explain simply what AI is, to an adult who has never used it before."

"Give me three safe ways a parent can use AI in everyday life with young children."

WHAT A REPLY LOOKS LIKE — example:

AI is like a helpful assistant that can suggest ideas and text. It knows nothing about your particular child — so you're always the one who judges and chooses. Start small, with one task you find boring.

MODULE 2: THE PROMPT FORMULA

A good prompt is the key. With one simple formula you get answers that actually fit you: ROLE + TASK + DETAILS + FORMAT. Learn it once, use it always.

USE THIS FOR

- Get more precise and usable answers from AI.
- Stop fumbling — you know what to write.
- Adapt everything to age, theme and your own language.

TRY THESE PROMPTS

“You are a Montessori-inspired educator. Make an activity about the seasons for a 4-year-old. Use simple words. Give me a bullet list with materials and steps.”

“You are a friendly storyteller. Write a short bedtime story about friendship for a 5-year-old, max 150 words.”

WHAT A REPLY LOOKS LIKE — example:

The more you tell it about role, age and format, the better the answer fits. Just swap out the details next time — the formula stays the same.

MODULE 3: ACTIVITIES IN MINUTES

Stop hunting for activities online. With AI you make them yourself — adapted to age, theme and the materials you already have at home or in the classroom.

USE THIS FOR

- Make activities from what you have on hand.
- Adapt the difficulty to each child.
- Get variety without spending hours planning.

TRY THESE PROMPTS

“Make a sorting activity with leaves, stones and buttons for a 3-4-year-old. Explain step by step in simple language.”

“Suggest five quiet activities a 5-year-old can do independently at the kitchen table.”

WHAT A REPLY LOOKS LIKE — example:

You get a finished activity with materials and steps. Ask for an easier or harder version if it doesn't fit — AI is happy to adjust.

MODULE 4: WEEKLY PLANS WITH AI

A calm week begins with a simple plan. Let AI set up a draft you can adjust, so you don't have to start with a blank page every Sunday.

USE THIS FOR

- Make a weekly plan with theme and activities in minutes.
- Balance calm, play and learning through the week.
- Reuse and adjust the plan week after week.

TRY THESE PROMPTS

"Make a weekly plan for a 4-year-old with the theme "autumn". Five days, one calm activity and one outdoor play per day. Simple words, bullet list."

"Make a simple daily rhythm for a day at home with two children aged 3 and 5."

WHAT A REPLY LOOKS LIKE — example:

You get a clear plan you can print or adapt. Ask to swap out a day or add a theme — the plan is yours to shape.

MODULE 5: PRINTABLES & MATERIALS

Word cards, matching cards and simple worksheets — AI helps you make the content, then you put it together in, for example, Canva. Perfect for reading practice and vocabulary.

USE THIS FOR

- Make content for word cards and matching cards quickly.
- Adapt theme and difficulty yourself.
- Build a small collection of materials over time.

TRY THESE PROMPTS

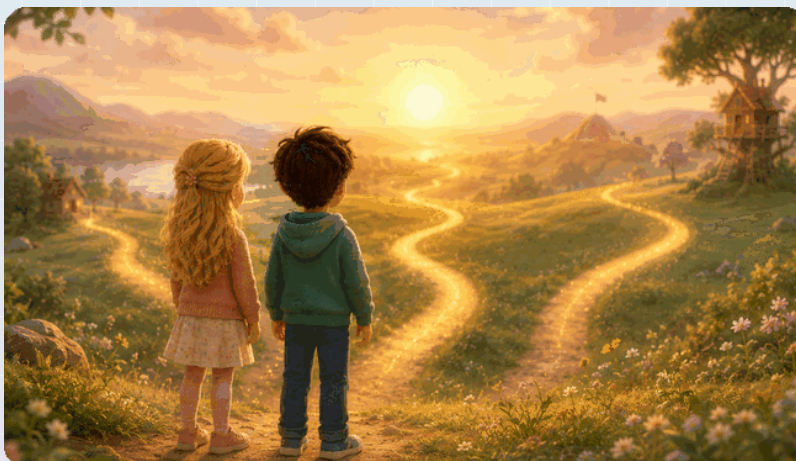

“Make 10 word-card pairs for reading practice: simple word + description, theme “animals”, for a 5-6-year-old.”

“Make content for a matching-card set with 8 pairs: picture-word, theme “around the house”.”

WHAT A REPLY LOOKS LIKE — example:

You get word lists and pairs you can paste straight into a template. AI makes the text — you give it the pretty LME look in Canva.

MODULE 6: FROM GUIDE TO LME SYSTEM

Once you've got a taste for it, you can grow further. The LME platform gathers your tools in one place — so you build a whole system, at your own pace.

USE THIS FOR

- Gather activities, plans and materials in one place.
- Use LME Content Studio to create and share content.
- Become part of the community in the LME Inner Circle.

TRY THESE PROMPTS

“Make a content plan for one month with one theme per week, ready to use in LME Content Studio.”

“Suggest how I can organise my materials in LME Creative Studio for easy reuse.”

WHAT A REPLY LOOKS LIKE — example:

You get a structure you can keep building on. Start with one week, and your system grows naturally — without stress.

PROMPT LIBRARY

PART 1 — Activities & play

Copy & paste — swap out the details with your own words.

“Make three Montessori-inspired activities about [THEME] for a child aged [AGE]. Simple words, with materials.”

“Suggest five quiet activities a child can do independently, theme [THEME].”

“Make an outdoor game for [NUMBER] children aged [AGE] that practises cooperation.”

“Give me a sensory play with water and natural materials for a 2-3-year-old.”

“Make a fine-motor activity with materials I have at home, for a child aged [AGE].”

EXAMPLE REPLY:

You get a numbered activity with a title, materials you probably have at home, and three simple steps. Ask for a calmer version if the child is tired.

Tip: the clearer you are, the better the answer.

PROMPT LIBRARY

PART 2 — Planning & routines

Copy & paste — swap out the details with your own words.

“Make a weekly plan for a child aged [AGE] with theme [THEME]. Five days, calm and play balanced.”

“Make a calm morning routine for a day at home with a child aged [AGE].”

“Suggest a monthly plan with one theme per week for age [AGE].”

“Make a simple transition routine from play to mealtime that creates calm.”

“Set up an evening routine in four steps that helps the child settle before bedtime.”

EXAMPLE REPLY:

You get a clear plan, day by day, with room to swap out what doesn't fit. Print it or paste it into an LME template.

Tip: the clearer you are, the better the answer.

PROMPT LIBRARY

PART 3 — Materials & text

Copy & paste — swap out the details with your own words.

“Make 10 word-card pairs for reading practice, theme [THEME], for a child aged [AGE].”

“Write a short bedtime story about [THEME], max 150 words, for a child aged [AGE].”

“Make content for a worksheet about [THEME] with three simple tasks.”

“Make a song or rhyme about [THEME] with a simple rhythm for preschoolers.”

“Make a word list of 12 words about [THEME] with a short, simple explanation for each.”

EXAMPLE REPLY:

You get finished text you can paste straight into a template. Ask for simpler words or a shorter version if it suits the child better.

BONUS 2 — AI FOR TIRED PARENTS

On the tired days you need something that just works. Here are five prompts you can copy when your energy is low — without any guilt.

“Give me one calm activity the child can do alone for 15 minutes, age [AGE].”

“Suggest a simple dinner I can make with the child, five ingredients.”

“Write a short bedtime story I can read aloud tonight, theme [THEME].”

“Give me three sentences I can say when the child is frustrated, that calm things down.”

“Suggest a gentle end to the day that creates calm before bedtime.”

You're doing well enough. That's true.

BONUS 3 — FROM AI TEXT TO CANVA

How to give the text a pretty LME look

- 1 Ask AI to make the content — word list, tasks or text.
- 2 Copy the text you want to use.
- 3 Open a template in Canva (or LME Creative Studio).
- 4 Paste the text into the template, one field at a time.
- 5 Switch to LME colours and Playpen Sans on the headings.
- 6 Download as PDF — ready to print.

BONUS 3 — TEMPLATES TO MAKE

Five templates you can build once and reuse

Weekly-plan template

Seven fields — one per day, plus theme at the top.

Word-card template

Two cards per page: word + picture, for cutting.

Activity card

Title, materials and three steps on one card.

Monthly-theme poster

One theme, four weeks, room for pictures.

Daily-rhythm strip

Icons in order for a calm day.

THE WAY ONWARD

You now have everything you need to get started. Here are three ways to take it further, when you feel ready.

Start small

Choose one module and use it this week. Let it be allowed to stay simple.

Build a system

Gather your activities and plans in LME Content Studio, little by little.

Become part of the community

In the LME Inner Circle we share ideas, templates and support along the way.

ONE LAST REMINDER

You don't have to do it all at once. Choose the one thing that helps you most this week — and let the rest wait until you're ready.

YOU'RE ON YOUR WAY!

Thank you for taking the time for this guide. Remember: you don't have to do it all at once. One small step at a time is more than enough — and your child feels the calm.

Mia and Teo, come and play!

We explore the world together — at the child's pace.

With warmth,
Renate Dahl
